Central Mediation helps sort the arrangements for families who have separated – from care arrangements for children through to division of property, all in the healthiest way possible for you. Central Mediation is specifically a child focused mediation service.

We guide you through a professional process to reduce emotional pain, costs and time. Mediation improves communication in order to maintain family relationships through a difficult time. We will also assist you in developing your own skills to deal with any future disputes should they arise. Best of all, mediation makes things better for your children.
