The Mission has been standing up for social justice in Otago since 1890. Our clients lead everything we do and their voice is paramount. They bring the resources for the work and set the targets that we work towards. Our job is to keep them on track, help them develop new resources, and provide a hand up when they stumble. To do this we use high levels of skill, rigour, and specialist tools, while paying attention and learning from what we discover.
